The Trans Bhutan Trail (TBT) is a project undertaken by the Bhutan Canada Foundation with support from the Tourism Council of Bhutan to revive the ancient Bhutanese trails. The centuries old ancestral trail runs across Central Bhutan connecting 9 dzongkhags, 27 gewogs, 2 national parks and 1 thromde and spans 403 KM. A revitalized trail will connect the past with the present and the future, the young with the old, and the rural with the urban. It will provide Bhutanese with opportunities to engage with their communities and encourage active learning and fitness. It will also create an accessible, unique cultural and nature-based eco-tourism experience to both domestic and international travelers.

To mark its launch, the Trans Bhutan Trail, will be organizing a Scout Walk. 24 scouts, representing every dzongkhag and thromde, will be the first to walk the entirety of the trail in 6 decades.
